SOME RAIN.

Some weather during the past few days has been such as to make the people here feel that they are getting a little of the rain which has been so long in coming. The clouds have been hanging over the city for some time, and the people are beginning to feel that they are getting a little of the rain which has been so long in coming.

A FALL OUT OF MR. E. STERNER.
A cartoon of misunderstanding occurred on the platform of the Santa Fe station today when Mr. E. Sterner got himself into still more difficulties.

The gentleman alighted from the station and went to a camera in his hand and a floppy cap on his head. He made for the Indians ranged along the platform and prepared to take a picture. At the same time a group of delegates to the National Educational Association—school teachers who are passing through in swarms just now—became aligned along the board walk. They evidently supposed that the gentleman was about to take their picture, so they turned upon him with a unanimous smile of the pleasant variety, and stood at attention in desperation Mr. Sterner finally took their picture with the camera. Now let me get the Indians.

It is a simple matter to press the button and get a photo, but when there is an Indian in the case there are other factors to be reckoned with. Our tourist was successful in getting his photo, but at the click of the shutter found himself the center of the attention of one of the most vicious of the Fred Harvey type.

This is Emma, chief of all the Indians. She attacked our tourist with all the impetuosity of a Conquistador, in order to get a photo of her. She was in a rage, and our tourist did not understand, and thought it was his fault that he was attacked. He fled with haste and the Indian headless where he ran.

He went sprawling in the grass. Picking himself and his floppy cap up he found he had lost himself in the crowd of the law. A Spanish officer, who happened along just then, observed the ridiculous situation on the ground, and tried to his reputation for dignity in the embarrassment of the law, he said: "Didn't you see that sign there?"

"Didn't I see that sign?" E. Sterner asked as though his position had been lost. "Do you suppose I have fallen over it that way if I had seen it?" He then explained that he had been pursued by a hostile Indian and prominent not to repeat the offense.

"All right," said the Spanish officer, "but next time you want to trouble to that side and not over it."

AND THE VILLAIN STOLE HIS SHIRT.
N. G. Meek, a palmer for the Santa Fe Railway, who is engaged in repairing portions of the local waiting rooms, recounts a unique experience which occurred this morning. He shirt was stolen.

Meek had changed his clothes to get into his painting jumps, and hung his shirt and a belt of trousers on a hook nearby. He was working industriously when a party of Mexican section hands entered the room. He had imagined one of them would have stolen his shirt, but he did not realize for some time that his shirt had been taken from the hook and appropriated by the Mexican, who thereupon started for the door.

When he discovered that he had been robbed in plain daylight and within plain sight of the thief N. G. was incensed. He said he would send his good friends on the hook a sign of them, and he intended to do it. But he thought of a stratagem.

S.S.S. NO HARMFUL MINERALS PURELY VEGETABLE
S.S.S. is the only remedy that can be used with perfect safety in the treatment of Contagious Blood Poison, and with the assurance that a lasting cure will result. There are certain mineral medicines which will temporarily remove the external symptoms of Contagious Blood Poison, but when the treatment is left off the disease always returns in worse form, and the delicate tissues of the stomach and bowels are usually injured by these strong minerals, and frequently stomach trouble, chronic dyspepsia, and mercurial Rheumatism are added to the destructive blood poison. S.S.S., made entirely of non-injurious roots, herbs and barks of recognized curative and tonic value, removes every particle of the virus from the circulation, and by enriching and strengthening the blood, cures the disease permanently. S.S.S. does not hide or cover up the symptoms, but removes them by first eliminating the cause. Home Treatment Book and any medical advice free. S.S.S. is sold at drug stores.

THE CHURCHES
Gold and Broadway Christian Church.
The morning sermon was a patriotic address to children, "The Red, White and Blue," in which the symbolism of the flag was explained. Back of the pulpit hung an American flag and a flag representing Christianity. To these the minister constantly referred. The evening sermon was entitled "The Fountain of Speech." The words of Jesus in the sermon on the mount were taken as a text. "Then shall not forbear thyself." "Sweet and soft" "Let your communication be, Yea, yea, nay, nay."

It is wonderful to note the prevalence and power of human languages. There are some 2,134 dialects in the world. The English language possesses 12,000 different words. Even such a primitive speech as the Iroquois, in northern Luzon, has over 8,000 roots, capable of over 100,000 formations.

At the present time we are now preparing to be printed in the world. It has been estimated that at least 10,000,000 separate books have been printed since the press was invented. This is all combined speech.

Their think of the living utterances of orators and teachers, in business and social conversation, in the average village and the diversified city. Speeches all speech should be true and pure and helpful to the human race what a blessing it could be.

Jesus intimates that we are responsible for what we say. Even the idle word has some influence for good or bad. What we say today affects the world tomorrow. When William Pinkney exclaimed: Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute, it served a whole nation to stand firm for what was just and right. "You can't regulate an oath without guilt. The standard in the word of God is clear. He that swears to his own hurt and conscience not to the city, shall enter into God's holy hill. Some are found who feign to be pious. They imagine that since they have erred in conduct the honorable thing is to make an Christian profession. Rather, the honorable thing is to make good that profession. What you have promised, live up to."

Salvation Army.
Captain Wendell of the Salvation Army gave an interesting history of his experiences of prison life at the morning service of the Salvation Army yesterday. Captain Wendell said in part:

"My first imprisonment was in 1883. During the five years following there wasn't a week but officers and soldiers were in jail for preaching the gospel on the streets. Several died from injuries and sickness caused by imprisonment. At that time four-fifths of the masses attended no place of worship. Constant touch with the prisoners and sharing their hardships formed a friendship between them and the Salvation Army workers which resulted in the conversion of many from a criminal to a peaceable and law-abiding life."

Mr. Wendell then gave a detailed account of the first which the Salvation Army made for their rights, which were finally recognized in England and America by decisions of the highest courts.

The Salvation Army holds meetings in Albuquerque each week, appealing to the country and doing other like work. Persons having relatives or friends in prison in any part of the world will be given information with regard to the same by communicating with any Salvation Army officer.
